The Dripstone Middle School Teaching and Learning Model has been developed to ensure that there is a common understanding of the learning sequence of a lesson in all subject areas. It reflects evidence-based teaching and learning practices to provide rich, meaningful, varied and challenging educational experiences for all students.

Dripstone Middle School believes that successful education in the middle years requires an intentional approach to teaching and learning that is responsive and appropriate to the needs, interests and achievements of young adolescents.

GENERAL CAPABILITIES 21ST CENTURY SKILLS AND TRAITS

Developing the right traits and skills for the 21st century is just as important as learning content from the Australian Curriculum subject areas. These are referred to as the 'General Capabilities' in the Australian Curriculum and include critical thinking, creativity, collaboration, and research skills. Our teachers understand that using a problem-based or inquiry-based approach to learning, assists students to develop the knowledge, skills, behaviours and dispositions to live and work successfully in the twenty-first century.

Further information about General Capabilities and the Australian Curriculum can be found at:

<https://www.australiancurriculum.edu.au/f-10-curriculum/general/capabilities/>

LEARNING THROUGH STEAM

STEAM education is based on the idea of educating students in four specific disciplines — science, technology, engineering and mathematics — in an interdisciplinary and applied approach. STEAM integrates learning based on real-world issues and improves students' problem solving and critical analysis skills in novel and creative ways.

Students at Dripstone Middle School are given a variety of opportunities to learn through STEAM education including coding and robotic classes. Students have access to a media studio which includes recording in a 'Green Room' to enhance their use of digital technology. Dripstone Middle School is continuing to invest to enhance STEAM opportunities further.

HOMework

Homework provides students with opportunities to consolidate their classroom learning, adapt behaviour for lifelong learning beyond the classroom and involve family members in their learning. The setting of homework takes into account the need for students to have a balanced lifestyle. This includes sufficient time for family, recreation, cultural pursuits and employment where appropriate.

In the middle years, homework should be approximately:

- 3 hours per week in Year 7
- 4 hours per week in Year 8
- 5 hours per week in Year 9

While some of these hours will include compulsory homework set by classroom teachers, students are also expected to engage in independent learning to complement work undertaken in class.

Compulsory homework will include:

- Independent Reading
- Wider Reading Journal and Maths homework books purchased through the Bookroom
- Various educational online programs
- Extension of classwork, projects and research

Student Responsibility – It is up to each student to:

- Inform their parents of set tasks
- Manage time appropriately to complete tasks
- Complete work to a high standard
- Submit completed work to their teacher by the due date
- Discuss any difficulties with their teacher

Parent Responsibility – Parents are asked to:

- Encourage and acknowledge independent learning
- Take an active interest in their child's homework
- Assist in establishing a homework routine
- Communicate with your child's teacher if they are having difficulty

Created for our tropical Darwin climate in mind, our uniform is worn by our students with pride.

Students must wear the Dripstone shirt and black Dripstone shorts. If students wear a jacket to school in the cooler months it must be a plain black jacket, or one of our Dripstone jackets available for purchase at the front office.
